44 Aboard Air Force Tanker Killed In Crash

Craft Plunges Into Ravine Near Spokane

Rescuers Recover Bodies of 33; No Survivors Reported

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—All 44 persons aboard a Strategic Air Command jet tanker plane apparently were killed when the KC135 plowed into a fog-shrouded ravine on 5,271-foot Mt. Kit Carson about 20 miles northeast of here Monday.

Thirty-three bodies had been recovered when nightfall halted the search of the 500-yard deep ravine.

"It's the worst sight I've ever seen," said a highway patrolman.

Aboard the plane were 39 Air Force men, all members of the 28th Bomb Wing at Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D.; one civilian and four crewmen.

The tanker, based at Ellsworth, was carrying the airmen to Fairchild Air Force Base near here, where they were to stay while Ellsworth runways were repaired. The jet was only 10 minutes from its destination when it crashed.

Col. Floyd R. Cressman of Fairchild, one of the first to view the wreckage, said the pilot apparently tried to pull up the tanker at the last minute. Visibility was near zero at the time.

Two volunteer searchers and a son of one of them found the wreckage, guided by the smell of smoke.

Bert Smith, Irving Hamann and his son, Wayne, all from Spokane, started searching after they had heard a report the plane was missing and apparently down in the Mt. Spokane-Mt. Kit Carson area.

"We decided to work our way down the steep slope," said Smith. "And as we did, the smell of smoke got stronger."

"Finally, we came across the first of the wreckage. It was smashed to pieces. Then we saw

Bliss Strike In Midland At End

United Steelworkers' strikes at the Pittsburgh and Midland, Pa., plants of the E. W. Bliss Company's Mackintosh-Hemphill Division ended Saturday with the signing of a new labor agreement covering both plants.

"The strike began Aug. 1 after the former contract expired July 31.

The new agreement follows the "basic steel" pattern and is comparable to contracts recently ratified in the firm's Canton and Salem Heavy Equipment Divisions, according to the Bliss announcement.

The settlement invokes improved benefits on pensions, supplemental unemployment benefits, additional vacation time and a vacation savings plan.

The MacHemp Division produced iron and steel mill rolls, rotary tube straighteners, cinder pots, and heavy steel castings.

Charlie Says Thanks, And Pleasant Dreams

An unidentified person, presumably an ex-employee of the Town Hall Diner on E. State St. which was gutted by fire more than two years ago, is sleeping better these nights.

Charles E. Mattevi, who with his brother, Louis A., owned the restaurant, Monday received a money order for $40 issued at Mount Union and an accompanying note which read:

"Please find enclosed money that was taken from the Town Hall Diner over five years ago. Due to extenuating circumstances, I don't feel it necessary to reveal who I am. Thank you. Now my conscience is clear."

The Mattevi brothers also are proprietors of the Lape Hotel.

Had Lain Unconscious Since Thursday

Fugitive Spy Soblen Dies

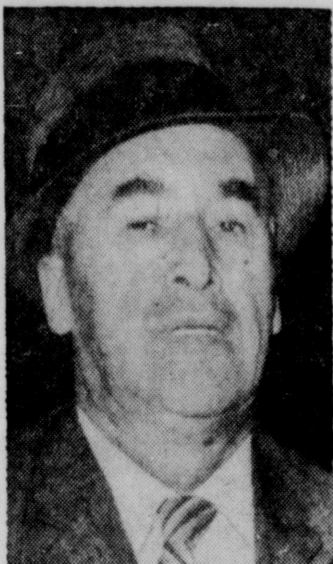

LONDON (AP)—Fugitive spy Robert A. Soblen died in a London hospital today and escaped the life sentence that awaited him in a U.S. federal prison for wartime espionage for the Soviet Union.

Soblen, died in Hillingdon Hospital, where he had lain unconscious since last Thursday. He had taken an overdose of barbiturates just before he was removed from Brixton Prison for deportation to the United States.

Dr. Cyril Barnes, who was in charge of Soblen's treatment, told newsmen Soblen's death was due not to the drugs he had taken but rather to "exhaustion following convulsions and damage to the brain, presumably caused by hemorrhage."

Barnes explained that Soblen had taken a quick-acting barbiturate and "it had been eliminated from the body chemically 24 hours before death."

Barnes said Soblen's wife, Dr. Dina Soblen, a psychiatrist like her husband, was at his bedside when he died. She flew to London and had been at the hospital with him since Friday.

Robert A. Soblen

"Just before 10 a.m. there was a severe turn for the worse," Barnes said. "Death did not occur suddenly, but came as his strength gradually failed."

Later, Soblen's wife was admitted to the hospital as a patient. A spokesman said she was being treated for shock.

The death of the 61-year-old New York psychiatrist ended a 10-week battle to escape deportation to the United States, where he faced a life sentence as a wartime spy for the Soviet Union.

Soblen took an overdose of barbiturates apparently just before he was put in an ambulance last Thursday to be taken to a plane for the United States.

En route to London Airport he lapsed into unconsciousness in the ambulance. At the airport he was transferred to another ambulance and rushed to nearby Hillingdon Hospital.

He never regained consciousness.

U.S. To Resume Nuclear Tests

Will Start After Schirra's Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has cleared the way for the resumption of atmospheric nuclear test explosions over the Pacific.

A spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission said Monday night the tests probably will resume later this month or early in October. He indicated, however, that there probably would be no detonation until after Sept. 28, the date set for the six-orbit flight of astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr.

A joint announcement by the AEC and the Defense Department said the off-limits safety zone around and above Johnston Island in the Pacific would be reactivated Sept. 22 "in connection with the completion of the Pacific test series."

Test shots from the island were discontinued July 31 after a Thor missile bearing a nuclear warhead for high-altitude detonation was destroyed on the launch pad July 25. The AEC spokesman said the badly damaged launch area would be repaired by late this month.

The statement did not say how many tests will be conducted but said they "will include a few high-altitude events and a few in which the devices will be dropped from an airplane."

President Kennedy said at his news conference after the July 25 failure that there might be three more tests over the Pacific.

The Soviet Union broke a three-year moratorium on atmospheric nuclear tests in September 1961. The United States resumed atmospheric tests last April 25. The Soviet Union began a second round of testing on Aug. 5, although the AEC indicated there may have been Soviet atmospheric tests before that date. The AEC has announced 10 Russian shots in the latest series.

The U.S. shots announced by the AEC included 26 in the Christmas Island area of the Pacific, mostly devices dropped from planes.

On July 9 the United States successfully triggered a nuclear device 210 miles above the ocean. Three other high-altitude test shots from Johnston Island, including the July 25 effort, failed.

Primaries Being Held In Nine States

By The Associated Press
New Hampshire's blistering four-way race for a Republican senatorial nomination and nominating campaigns in eight other states come to an end today as voters make their choice in primary elections.

The biggest primary day of the year will see candidates nominated for 39 House seats, eight Senate seats and six governorships in New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Utah, Washington, Arizona and Colorado.

Georgia Democrats Wednesday ballot for governor, senator and 10 House members.

In Election Spotlight
Most of the attention has been focused on New Hampshire, where four candidates have been seeking the GOP nomination for the remaining four years of the late Sen. Styles Bridges' term.

The candidates:
Sen. Maurice J. Murphy Jr., conservative former state attorney general who was appointed to serve out this session by Gov. Wesley Powell.

Doloris Bridges, the late senator's widow, who has campaigned strongly on a conservative platform featuring opposition to the U.N. bond issue and trade program proposed by President Kennedy.

Rep. Perkins Bass, a self-styled moderate who has supported the President on foreign trade and foreign affairs.

Rep. Chester E. Merrow, a liberal Republican running with the backing of organized labor.

Political observers say Bass and Mrs. Bridges seem to be the front-runners in the normally Republican state.

New Hampshire Republicans will also pass judgment on Powell's bid for a third term. His hard-hitting challenger is State Rep. John Pillsbury.

Hot GOP Battles
There are hot Republican battles in Utah, Arizona, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

In Utah, J. Bracken Lee, the two-time former governor, is rated an underdog to Sen. Wallace Bennett, who never has lost an election and is bidding for a third term in the Senate. But Lee, who once read himself out of the Republican party to make an unsuccessful try for governor as an independent, has pulled political upsets before. Both are conservatives.

In Arizona, Stephen Shadegg, former Democrat and later state Republican chairman and campaign manager for Sen. Barry Goldwater has waged a stiff fight with state Sen. Evan Mecham. Both are conservatives. Goldwater has said he will back either man in November against the likely Democratic nominee, Sen. Carl

Grand Jury Opens Probes

15 Witnesses In 8 Cases Called Today

LISBON—The September Grand Jury, sworn in this morning by Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, is operating on a different schedule than its predecessors.

Instead of beginning work with an inspection of Columbiana County jail, the jury began to investigate criminal cases with Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw. He called 15 witnesses in eight cases for today, and 13 witnesses in 16 cases for Wednesday.

After completing investigations Thursday, the jury will inspect the jail while its report is being typed for presentation to Judge Buzzard.

William E. Kaiser of East Liverpool was named jury foreman. He is a real estate broker.

The panel of seven women and eight men includes:

Vance Andrews and Carlos Deemer of East Liverpool; Vera Hays and William Treleven of East Liverpool RD 2, and Burdene Chase, East Liverpool MC 22. Ella Faulkner, 161 W. 3rd St., Salem; Alta E. Peterson, 1250 E. 9th St., Salem; Arch Wentz, 620 E. 3rd St., Salem.

Frank Apple, 716 Sunset Drive, Lisbon; Julia Jackson, 325 Sherman St., Lisbon; John Steffen, Lisbon RD 2; Sandra Murphy, Lisbon RD 3; Elsie McConville, New Waterford, and James N. Campbell, Columbiana.

Council Plans Meetings With Boards

Lisbon Departments Ask Boost In Wages

LISBON — The Board of Public Affairs and the Cemetery Board asked Village Council Monday for authority to increase salaries of their employees $25 per month.

With increases, the proposed schedule would be:

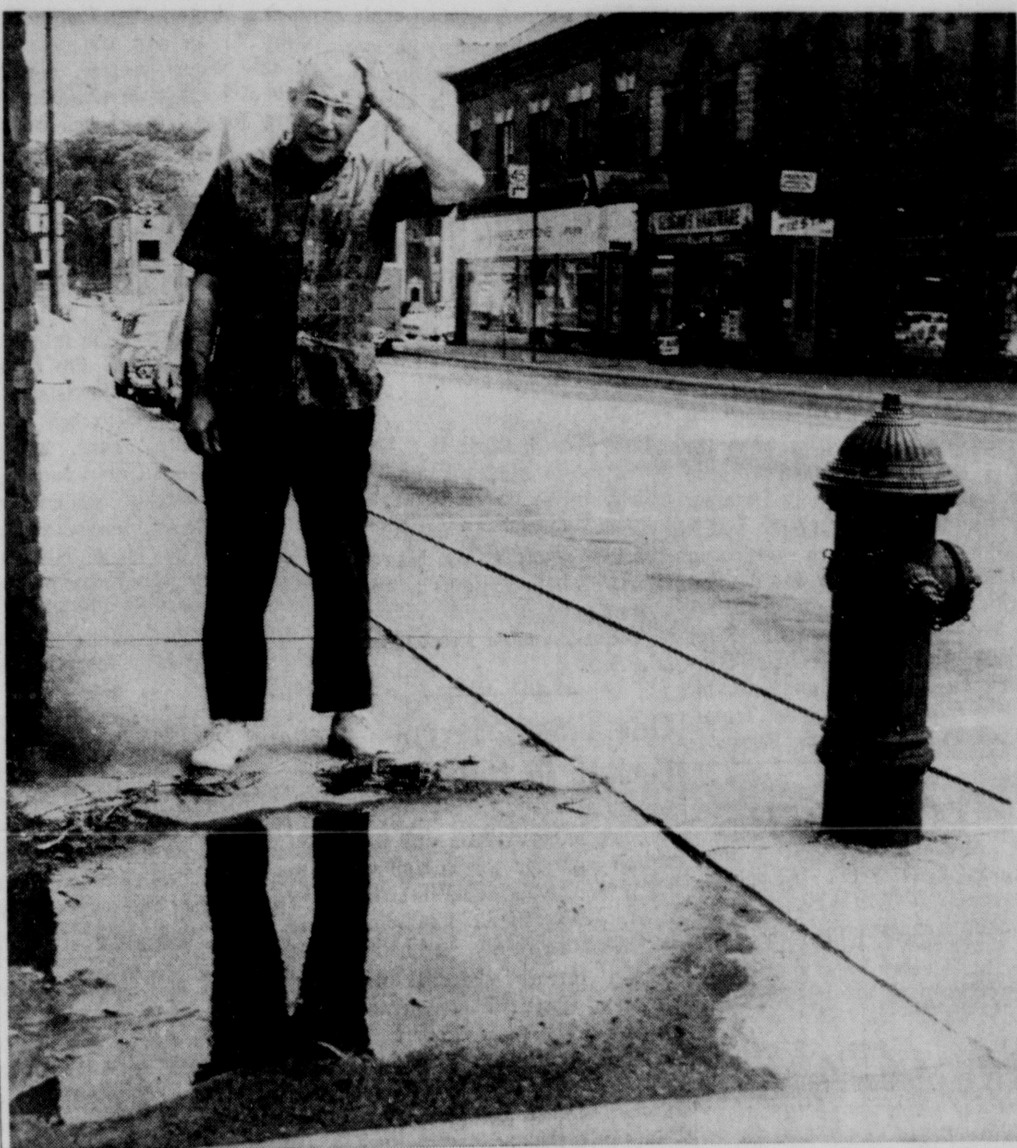

Water department — Supt. Ernest Reisinger, $415; Asst. Supt. Elmer Donnalley, $385; William Carlisle, sewage treatment plant operator, $385; and Clerk Edgar Kirk, $325.

Cemetery department — Supt. Richard Woods, $375; Ed Meek, $325, and Kirk, $80, making his salary $385 from both departments.

The increases and additional payments to the retirement fund would make the water department's monthly payroll $1,155.60, and the Cemetery Board's $770.40.

Both boards have their own operating funds, but wages and major expenditures must be approved by Village Council.

They made their requests after Clerk-Treasurer Ray Hempstead

SIDEWALK HAZARD — Runoff storm water continues to present an obstacle to persons walking on downtown E. State St. across from Penn Ave. intersection. Lloyd Loop of 1544 E. Third St. seems somewhat perplexed as he contemplates jumping across the puddle of water or to walk around it and the fire plug which protrudes from the sidewalk at that point. The water and silt wash onto the sidewalk from the adjacent lot where the old Colonial Hotel once stood.

140 Register For Kent Center Here

Sixty-six Salem students are among the 140 who have registered thus far for the new Salem Academic Center of Kent State University, according to Francis E. Hazard, director of the Center. Twelve registrants are from Lisbon.

Other areas represented are East Liverpool, Salineville, Wellsburg and Columbiana, 7 each; Sebring, Leetonia and Beloit, 6; Canfield, 4; Kensington and Alliance, 3; and Winona, Washingtonville and North Lima, 2 each.

For those unable to register previously, a final late registration will be held Friday from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Salem High School cafeteria. Registrations will still be accepted from new and transfer students pending final clearance of their application papers prior to classes beginning Sept. 19.

Openings are still available in all classes. No classes offered in the program for the fall quarter will be cancelled.

Mr. Hazard said he was gratified by the Salem response but he was disappointed that the percentage of registrants from the area outside Salem is low. He explained that while the program is titled the Salem Academic Center, it is intended for all people in the district.

Horse Killed, 3 Hurt In Traffic

A horse was killed and two men slightly injured in three accidents investigated Monday by the Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol.

According to the patrol, Edward C. Zins, 38, of Youngstown was traveling north on Rt. 62 just north of Salem, when a horse owned by Charles Vincent ran across the road in front of him. The accident occurred at 10:20 p.m.

Vincent's horse, "Texoma," was a black mare which was familiar to many Salem residents who saw it in parades and as a team horse drawing the covered wagon in the city's sesquicentennial pageant in 1956.

Raymond Kendall, 54, of New Castle, Pa., was cited for passing on a yellow line after the car he was driving collided with a tractor driven by Floyd Shamp, 46, of RD 2, West Point.

The patrol said both vehicles were traveling east on Rt. 14, just east of Columbiana at 5 p.m., when Kendall started to pass just as Shamp was making a left turn. Kendall received a laceration of the right knee.

Glen O. Mericle, 18, of Akron received lacerations of the left arm and elbow when the truck he was driving went off the right side of Rt. 39, four miles north of Wellsville, sheared off a utility pole, and turned over down an embankment. The mishap occurred at 11:30 a.m.

SCHOOL HEADS TO MEET
LISBON — The chief school administrators made up of superintendents and executive heads of Columbiana County school districts will have their first meeting of the new school year Friday noon at the Wick Hotel here.

County Supt. James L. McBride will preside.

Cuba Says 2 Vessels Hit by 'Pirate Ship'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio said today a Cuban freighter and a British cargo ship have been attacked by what the broadcast labeled a pirate ship.

No mention was made of casualties or the extent of damage.

The broadcast, monitored in Key West, said the ships were fired on off the northern coast of Cuba, but did not specify the time.

The Cuban vessel, identified as the San Pascual, was hit 18 times and eight shots whistled through the crew's cabin, the radio said. The British ship, the name of which sounded like "New Land," took 13 hits, the Havana account said.

The British vessel may have been the Trafalgar Steamship Co. sugar cargo freighter Newlane. In London, Trafalgar said the Newlane left Havana Monday night under charter. The company said it did not know the 7,043-ton ship's destination because the charter had been arranged by its agents for the Caribbean area.

Havana radio said the Cuban vessel was carrying a load of molasses, the British freighter a load of sugar for Socialist countries.

Calling the alleged incident "a cowardly attack against the Cuban government," the broadcast said a second British ship—with a name which sounded like "Apple Sultan"—escaped the attack because it was delayed in reaching the area.

The radio did not elaborate on its designation of the alleged attacker as a pirate ship.

The report came in the wake of an offshore shelling of Havana Aug. 24 by anti-Castro Cuban youth who led the Aug. 24 attack said last week that ships with Communist flags would be considered military targets. Juan Manuel Salvat, the attack leader, made that statement to newsmen in Caracas, Venezuela.

Says Soviets Would Come to Castro's Aid

Statement Also Asks Settlement Of Berlin Issue

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government warned the United States today that an attack on Cuba would be the beginning of a war that might turn into a world nuclear war.

In a statement read to a special Foreign Office news conference, the Soviet government accused the United States of staging provocations "which might plunge the world into the disaster of a universal world war with the use of thermonuclear weapons."

"One cannot now attack Cuba and expect that the aggressor will be free from punishment for this attack," the statement continued. "If such an attack is made, this will be the beginning of unleashing war."

Appealed To U.S.
The statement appealed to the United States "to display common sense, not to lose its self-control and soberly to assess what it actions might lead to if it unleashes war."

It said the Soviets would not follow the path of the United States in calling up 150,000 reservists.

But the Soviet government, it continued, "considers it to be its duty to remain watchful in this situation and order the Defense Ministry as well as the command of the Soviet army to take all measures to put out fighting forces into the highest degree of fighting readiness."

"This is exclusively a precautionary measure. On our side we shall do everything not to violate peace."

The statement added an appeal to all nations to raise their voices against the alleged aggressive plans of the United States and to prevent the "American aggressors" from starting a war.

Not Establishing Base
The statement declared that the Soviet Union is sending military supplies and military technicians to Cuba but is not establishing a base there.

"We state and we repeat," the statement said, "that if war is unleashed, if an aggressor attacks one or another state, and this state turns to us for help, then the Soviet Union has the possibility of giving aid from its own territory, to any peace loving state, and not only to Cuba."

"And let no one doubt that the Soviet Union will give such aid." In the statement, the Soviet government also declared it wants a settlement of the Berlin question and a liquidation of the occupation regime in the divided city. "The occupation regime must be liquidated, and it shall be liquidated," the statement said.

The Soviets hinted they are will-

It's 105 Candles For Mrs. Deming

A telegram of congratulations from Gov. Michael DiSalle highlighted the 105th birthday observance of Columbiana County's oldest resident, Mrs. Henrietta B. Deming of 687 S. Lincoln Ave., Monday. State Auditor James A. Rhodes also wired congratulations.

A few close relatives were guests at a birthday luncheon and Mrs. Deming received many cards, gifts and flowers but due to her frailness no special celebration was held.

Mrs. Deming, who was born in Philadelphia, is the widow of William L. Deming, former president of the Deming Company, whom she married April 11, 1894, in the home of her parents in Lancaster, Pa.

A member of the Church of Our Saviour, Mrs. Deming until recent years was active in the civic and social affairs of the community, serving on the boards of the Red Cross, Salem City Hospital and the Home for Aged Women. She is also a past president of the Travelers Club.

President Begins Four-State Tour

JFK Visits Space Centers

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy visits two of the nation's major space centers today on the first leg of a two-day tour of U.S. projects aimed at overtaking the Soviet Union in space.

Kennedy's four-state tour is billed by the White House as a non-political business trip. The White House says it will enable him to examine work on space programs and provide background for consideration of next year's space budget.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Space Administrator James E. Webb and Congress members directly concerned with space programs are accompanying Kennedy.

The President's interest in U.S. booster capabilities was underscored by the first stop on his schedule Huntsville, Ala. He planned to visit Cape Canaveral, Fla., later in the day.

At Huntsville, where the Army and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration operate space development projects, Kennedy will view Saturn and Titan rockets.

Saturn is currently the U.S. hope for shooting a man to the moon before 1970. Titan is the booster for the planned Gemini project to loft two men into space and orbit them for as long as two weeks at a time.

At Huntsville, Kennedy's party will be briefed by Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the NASA space flight center. From a vantage point some 2,500 feet away, they will observe from a concrete blockhouse a ground test of a Saturn's engines.

At the Cape, Kennedy may chat with astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., who is scheduled to be launched Sept. 28 on a six-orbit flight.

Kennedy goes to Houston, Tex., tonight and will deliver a speech, probably on his administration's space aspirations, at Rice University Wednesday morning. Later he will tour the new manned space flight center at Houston and visit the McDonnell Aircraft plant at St. Louis, Mo., before returning to Washington Wednesday night. He will address several thousand workers at the McDonnell plant, which produces capsules for U.S. astronauts.

Dead Race

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) Novelist James Jones, who enjoys life hugely himself, feels the human race is a lost cause.

"I'm pessimistic about mankind," he said cheerfully. "I think mankind is a dead race—one way or the other."

"Either he'll be the springboard to a greater race that will be as much above present man as man is above the animals, or else he'll kill himself off," Jones says.

"In either case man—as he is now—goes. The question is not whether to save mankind, but whether mankind has the guts to change."

Jones, a soldier turned author, startled the literary world in 1951 with "From Here to Eternity," which sold more than four million copies. Critics now are hailing an able sequel, a raw, realistic story of combat on Guadalcanal, where Jones himself was wounded.

Jim, the most powerful writer to emerge from World War II, looks like his prose sounds. He's a slugger—thick-chested, muscular, with a chin like a concrete dam.

Now married and the father of a 3-year-old daughter, Jim roams between Paris and the island of Jamaica. He likes to box, skin dive, and collect guns, knives, jazz records and Indian carvings.

Stubborn, toughly sentimental, he likes to go on an occasional binge. But he is a laborious craftsman to whom the production of a novel is usually a lonely, arduous one-man military campaign, lasting from three to four years.

"I don't wait for inspiration, no real writer can," he says. "I just sit my behind down at the typewriter and work. It takes me an hour to get started. I just sit there until I get geared up. Then I keep at it for five more hours."

"I also like to keep in good physical shape. But I wouldn't give up living to stay in shape. There are a lot of enticements in living."

Jim put in five years in the Army, and knew some lean post-war years before book and movie sales flooded him with a tide of dollars, which he enjoys spending with both hands.

"Success hasn't changed my basic viewpoint," he said, opening a can of beer in his hotel room. "It has given me money, and I live better—which I'm not against."

"But success is like history. It's already in the race."

He likes to feel that he looks at the world honestly and without illusion or hypocrisy.

"Life has been great to me," he acknowledged, "but it is still scary. And for most people it is nothing but a jungle."

"You get that feeling when you are skin diving. Things sting and hurt you and you don't even know it. They have no conception of what they do."

"People are like that too. But there is a hunger in man, as he is made up now, to perpetuate cruelty."

"Morally, man is now the same in peace as he is in war. The only difference is that in peace the knives people stick in each other are only verbal."

"But man has to learn to be better than that. If he is going to evolve into a higher type of life form, he has to become a type that would prefer to accept pain rather than inflict it on others."

Asked to put his philosophy in a single sentence, Jones pondered. His green eyes flickered into a smile.

"Life is a roller coaster ride, so"—he tipped up the beer can again—"hold on tight!"

VANIK WON'T RUN
CLEVELAND (AP)—U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik says he won't run for mayor of Cleveland in November. The Democratic congressman from the 21st District had been considered a possible candidate.

Democrats Ralph Locher, who became mayor after Anthony J. Celebrezze was appointed to President Kennedy's cabinet, and Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy already are in the race.

He likes to feel that he looks at the world honestly and without illusion or hypocrisy.

"Life has been great to me," he acknowledged, "but it is still scary. And for most people it is nothing but a jungle."

"You get that feeling when you are skin diving. Things sting and hurt you and you don't even know it. They have no conception of what they do."

"People are like that too. But there is a hunger in man, as he is made up now, to perpetuate cruelty."

"Morally, man is now the same in peace as he is in war. The only difference is that in peace the knives people stick in each other are only verbal."

"But man has to learn to be better than that. If he is going to evolve into a higher type of life form, he has to become a type that would prefer to accept pain rather than inflict it on others."

Asked to put his philosophy in a single sentence, Jones pondered. His green eyes flickered into a smile.

"Life is a roller coaster ride, so"—he tipped up the beer can again—"hold on tight!"

GAS heat filters the air, so your home stays cleaner longer

Practically all new homes built today are Gas heated, because Gas heat is clean heat. Most of the dirt in your home is brought in—on shoes, on clothes, through the air which enters when doors are opened. A forced air Gas heating system helps get rid of dirt—by circulating the warm air through filters several times every hour.

There is no dirt from Gas heat. That's why your walls, draperies and furniture stay clean longer than with unfiltered heating systems.

If your home is heated with modern, automatic Gas equipment, you have the best heating system you can buy! And, when you buy or build a new home, make sure it has modern Gas heat.

What's more, it's easy to convert your forced air Gas heating system to summer comfort cooling—just add on a Gas Air Conditioning unit to your present Gas heating system. Enjoy year-round, "whole-house comfort" with GAS!

The Doctor Says People In the News

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN
Questions and Answers

Q—Years ago, I had an eye infection that left me with a clouded cornea through which I have never been able to see except to recognize light and dark. I have been advised to have a corneal transplant to give me a "window" that will restore vision to the damaged eye. But I know enough about medicine to know that transplanted tissues do not live when they are taken from one person and placed in another. Why then should a corneal transplant survive? And should I have the operation?

A—Skillfully done, a corneal transplant does give every promise of success. And, while you are quite correct in your statement about the failure of transplanted tissues to thrive under usual conditions, your reasoning does not apply to the cornea for the good and simple reason that the cornea does not have blood vessels. It can accept a transplant that is expertly introduced.

Q—I am badly in need of a good hearing aid. I have deafness due to defective bone conduction and a salesman induced me to buy an aid that cost over $400 but that helps very little. He said that less expensive aids were of poor quality and I might as well get the best. Is there anything else I can do or must I resign myself to deafness?

A—My dear madam, you have made two great mistakes. One is to buy your hearing aid from a salesman who is obviously intent on selling you the product put out by his employers. The other is to permit yourself to be persuaded that the most expensive is necessarily the best. I'd suggest you make a fresh start by consulting an ear specialist (otologist) who will determine the type of deafness from which you suffer, refer you to a Hearing Aid Center where you can try aids of various manufacture, and then re-examine you when you have decided on the type of instrument you think is best suited. But do not resign yourself to your deafness on the basis of this single bad experience.

Polaris Subs To Be Based At Guam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced today it will base Polaris missile submarines at Guam, strategically located in the mid-Pacific about 1,800 miles from Red China.

The announcement gave no date for moving the nuclear-powered subs into the Pacific, but the Navy time table reportedly calls for posting the first of them off Red China by late next year.

The action will make the Asian flank of the Communist world vulnerable to 1,400-mile range hydrogen bomb-tipped rockets carried by subs.

Each Polaris sub mounts 16 of the missiles and Adm. Roy S. Benson, Pacific sub force commander, said last June as many as 10 Polaris subs will be ranging the Pacific within two years.

The Navy announcement said that Apra Harbor at Guam will be the home port for a missile submarine tender like the Proteus which is now moored at Holy Loch in Scotland.

The Proteus serves the U.S. submarines which are on patrol in the North Atlantic within striking range of Russia and the rest of Communist Europe.

The United States now has nine Polaris subs in commission out of a planned 41.

Next year, another nine of these subs are due to join the fleet.

The Proteus is due to be replaced by a newly commissioned sub tender Hunley late this year or early next.

At that time, the Proteus would be available for possible movement into the Pacific after some overhaul work in the United States.

In addition a third sub tender, the Holland, is being built at Pascagoula, Miss. Plans call for it to be ready in about a year.

Submarine tenders are capable of any kind of sub repair work, except a major overhaul. They can service the nuclear power plants of Polaris submarines.

Venezuela plans to spend $580 million during the next two years on its highway development program.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Sept. 11, the 254th day of 1962. There are 111 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1777, Colonial forces were defeated in the battle of Brandywine. During the fighting, a British soldier, Patrick Ferguson, had a chance to shoot a colonial officer but refrained because the officer's back was turned. The next day Ferguson learned the Colonial officer was George Washington.

On this date:
In 1609, Henry Hudson discovered the island of Manhattan.

In 1814, the United States was saved from an invasion by the Duke of Wellington's veterans of the Napoleonic wars by defeating the British in the battle of Lake Champlain.

In 1850, the Swedish nightingale, Jenny Lind, gave her first American concert at Castle Garden in New York.

In 1940, Winston Churchill warned England to be prepared for a Nazi attempt at invasion.
In 1943, the major part of the Italian fleet surrendered at Malta.

Cuba's Not for the Taking

If the United States felt like being cute about a military buildup for the Cuban crisis, it would hide the call for 150,000 reservists with the same kind of slippery phrases used by the Russians now building up for a Cuban crisis.

It would say the reservists were "tourists" visiting the sunny South as a reward for good citizenship.

They had been selected, the government would announce blandly, on a basis of their ability to collect "brownie points."

Their activities would be described as part of a government "retraining" program.

It would be pointed out to all and sundry that the rockets on their stands in Florida and elsewhere were for defensive purposes, to be used only in case of a massive invasion of wild geese.

IN THE INTERMEDIATE future, it would be explained for those wanting to take a long view, that the United States would build a bridge connecting Cuba with the continental United States.

A sensationally large number of military ships flying the Stars and Stripes would be dispatched to surround Cuba and their presence would be explained as a precautionary measure to keep autumn hurricanes from buffeting Cuban beaches and causing discomfort to Russian "technicians."

All the "tourists" chosen on a basis of accumulated "brownie points" would be encouraged to grow beards in emulation of that one-time revolutionist, Fidel Castro—the one captured outright by the beardless Russians and never heard of again.

U.S. MILITARY planes would buzz back and forth over Cuba 24 hours a day and each and every one, it would be explained, had lost its way while tracking a weather balloon.

Tin Pan Alley, or whatever they now call it, would be put to work writing easy-to-remember songs about "Cuber," as President Kennedy always calls it. The "Cuba Libre" would be proclaimed the national drink.

True to the thesis that there should be only one foreign policy for the United States at a time, all U.S. senators and nearly everybody else with ready access to the public ear would carry along the idea that the United States was so wild about "Cuber" it couldn't think of anything else and couldn't wait to get there and mingle with exotic types from Red China, Red Russia, Red Czechoslovakia, Red Poland and Red Everything.

The general idea would stick through all this light-heartedness like an elephant hiding in a tea shop—and that would be part of the plan.

THERE ISN'T AN American alive who doesn't feel sure he is witnessing the process of talking his country into a corner preparatory for an international killing, the way Britain's hamberlain and China's Chiang Kai-shek were talked into corners by Nazi Germans and Chinese Reds. This isn't one of the new Communist tricks—just an old stunt in international power politics.

The American plan must be to hustle preparations for the invasion of Cuba unless all evidence of Russian and Communist penetration had been purged from sight before Thanksgiving.

There used to be a famous advertising slogan—"Eventually Why Now Now?" To make sure no one could misunderstand, the United States should send skywriting U2 planes on every clear day to write it in the sky.

Rep. Powell's Junket and the Expediency Doctrine

By DAVID LAWRENCE

There's a lot of agitation these days about civil rights, but very little is said about civil responsibilities. All sorts of public demonstrations are being staged in the South to assure Negroes of the right to vote—but there is little concern apparently over what they do with the vote in those sections of the country where they have been exercising that right freely for many years.

For nine consecutive terms now

—18 years—in a district in New York City populated predominantly by Negroes and Puerto Ricans, Adam Clayton Powell, a Negro clergyman, has been elected to Congress. By reason of the seniority rule and length of membership, he now is chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor.

He cannot be displaced unless the Republicans win control of Congress this November, or unless he is himself defeated.

It might be thought that the chairman of the committee of the House of Representatives which deals with such an important subject as labor relations would be attending committee meetings and sessions of the House at this time, as the work of Congress is currently in the most decisive stage of the present session.

STRIKES and work stoppages in missile plants are causing grave anxiety. The all-important federal aid-to-education bill is tied up in joint conference, in which his committee plays an influential part but Mr. Powell chose this period for a six-week trip abroad.

The New York Times, in an editorial last Thursday under the caption "Powell's Shameless Junket," said:

"In the midst of the important closing period of the congressional session, when a record of accomplishment vs. do-nothingism is in the balance, the chairman of a major committee of the House is traveling about Europe on a frivolous junket. Almost needless to say, this is Adam Clayton Powell, chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, a Democrat from Harlem who annually vies with Buckley of the Bronx for the dishonor of being among the most absent members of Congress.

"Rep. Powell sailed for Europe Aug. 8 with Mrs. Tamara J. Wall, associate labor counsel for the committee, and Miss Corrine Huff, receptionist in his office.

"They are due back about Sept. 21. Mr. Powell is supposedly conducting an inquiry into equal opportunities for women in Europe, a study that will take him to a Paris night club show, a Venice film festival and possibly on an Aegean cruise. State Department officials have been alerted to arrange hospitality and entertainment, as well as counterpart funds—other countries' reimbursement for our foreign aid—which conveniently need not be accounted for in detail by our traveling congressmen. Mr. Powell is not alone in the enjoyment of this and other abuses of the congressional privilege.

THE RECKLESS, irresponsible conduct of Mr. Powell is a disgrace to the people of his district, to the United States Congress and to the Kennedy administration, which to his discredit sent secretaries Ribicoff and Gold-berg to New York last year to attend a Powell glorification dinner.

"We say it is time for the people of Harlem to wake up; quit making a hero out of this man who holds in such contempt his obligations in public office and retire him from Congress before he has a chance to make good on his repeated promises to retire himself.

"As for the House of Representatives and the Kennedy administration, have they no discipline for a member, and especially a committee chairman, who runs away to Europe for six weeks on idle whimsy like this 'inquiry' just at a time when Congress is—belatedly—trying to get down to serious business?"

The next day news dispatches reported that Mr. Powell had suddenly cut short his tour and flown from Madrid to Puerto Rico, where he maintains a $50,000 home and where his wife spends most of her time, though she is on the congressional payroll at a salary of $12,000 a year as a staff member of the committee of which her husband is chairman.

Mr. Powell says his wife earns her pay because she handles the voluminous mail he receives from Spanish-speaking constituents in New York City.

MR. POWELL is up for reelection this autumn, but he isn't worried about the outcome. The Negroes in his district are expected to continue to reelect him. The Kennedy administration is expected to help him get elected. Maybe the explanation for this was given recently by J. Kenneth Galbraith, former Harvard professor, close adviser to President Kennedy, and now U. S. ambassador to India.

In a speech on Aug. 8 before the Constitution Club in New Delhi—an assemblage of members of the Indian Parliament—Mr. Galbraith told why the Kennedy administration is against "colonialism" and why it supported India as against Portugal when Nehru invaded the Portuguese province of Goa. The American ambassador to India said:

"Perhaps our reasons for this stand are even more pressing than yours. Africa is the continent most intimately identified with modern colonialism. A very large number of Americans are of African origin. The administration which I represent came to power because it enjoyed the overwhelming support of the 19 million Americans—about 10 per cent of the population—of African descent. These help form our attitudes toward colonialism. On the basis of a long and close political association with Negro friends and colleagues, I can assure you of the strength of these attitudes and also of their political force."

In other words, American policy in foreign affairs is made nowadays on the basis of what will win the Negro vote in America and not on the principle of what is right for all the people of the United States—such as preserving, for instance, a naval base for our armed forces in the Azores which Portugal has granted us but now is reluctant to renew.

This is the expediency doctrine of a politically minded Administration now fully confessed by one of its principal advisers.

The Tax Is Quicker Than the Eye

A proposal by Eastern railroads to act as if the 10 per cent federal transportation tax were not expiring Nov. 15 and keep on collecting the money as if the tax were still being collected should leave the Interstate Commerce Commission shaken and confused.

What this amounts to is a request for a 10 per cent rate increase to replace a 10 per cent tax. The railroads declare their users wouldn't be aware of any increase because they already are paying the transportation tax of the same amount. They maintain with good cause that they do need the money because they lost $133 million on their passenger services last year.

But the yield from the rate increase—or from the transportation tax, if that's easier to understand—amounts to about $19 million, hardly enough to justify what would look to many people like abandonment of a strong talkink point.

This is the point that railroads could improve their competitive situation if they cut their costs. It is the same talking point the steel industry had been using. The public always thought it meant they wanted to cut their costs so they could make their prices more competitive.

But it turned out that the steel industry wanted to raise its prices instead, a strange way to cope with a competitive situation. And now it turns out that Eastern railroads want to forego a chance to put a dent in airline competition. They want to keep the money the government won't be collecting after Nov. 15.

What happened to that old-time idea that the best way to stimulate volume was to put the price down?

You Too Can Have a U2

The U2 airplane has been a bright spot in a dismal outlook. It is one of a few things the United States has done so well during the cold war no one is known to be in close competition.

Thanks to this high-altitude plane with the remarkable characteristics that make it fly long distances with relatively little fuel, the United States knows nearly everything knowable about what has been done on the ground in the territory of its possible opponents.

It was encouraging to learn that U2 planes had shuttled back and forth over the Soviet Union in the '50s. It is encouraging to know that U2 planes flying from Nationalist China have been shuttling back and forth over Red China in the '60s.

It was encouraging a few days ago to know the Soviet Union was complaining about a violation of air rights over Sakhalin Island.

If the United States failed to take every advantage of a triumph of airplane design that makes it possible to photograph and detect evidence of military effort in potentially unfriendly countries, it would be remiss. This is the theory of aerial inspection the United States has put forward as the strongest possible deterrent to war. If we believe in it, we should be doing it—and we are.

The "cover stories" that explain occasional detection and destruction of the planes are of no importance. Americans don't care whether U2 planes are blown off course or whether they were flown off course. All that matters is that they are being flown where they can be most useful—over Red China, over Russia, over possibly fortified islands in the Pacific.

And was the U2 the Chinese Reds claim too have shot down and the Nationalist Chinese admit they lost "sold" to Nationalist China by its U.S. manufacturer? Undoubtedly—but did not the United States pay for it? Undoubtedly.

Par For The Course By Truman Twill

Try this on the kid who has been doing so-so, or worse, in school and could do better.

Tell the kid he is free to be a so-so ko-and-so the rest of his life. Spell it out. Make him understand the price of doing anything less than the best.

Give the kid concrete examples. Name some kids unable to do anything well enough to be first-stringers. Explain what it's like to die whenever it's time to take an examination. Give personal testimony.

Explain about the thing that's going on in this country right now—good jobs begging for people smart enough to fill them while other people are begging for any job at all. Make it clear that anyone who does less than the best is cheating himself. Point out that there are two ways to tackle a job, whether in school or somewhere else.

One is to go at it haphazardly and half-heartedly, to do it slipshod, then endure the agonies of the damned while trying to evade the consequences of bad work. The consequences in school are bad grades and fear of failure. Later on they're low pay and fear of making a botch of your only chance to rack up a satisfactory life.

Then dig into the other side—the good way to tackle a job—to do what must be done promptly and as well as possible—to put first things first and second things second—to get the work out of the way first so play can be given undivided attention later.

Hammer away on the point that this is a chance "to make the team" and that making the team is the most gratifying thing there is; that even trying to make it is so gratifying here's no substitute for it; that effort is one game no one loses because all the players are sure to win.

If the kid's bookish, tell him about the competition for the privilege of going to college and how only those kids who have shown they are willing to do their best can go to first-rate schools; i.e., schools for first-raters.

Make it clear to him that a lazy individual looks for the easy way to do things and the easiest way is to pitch in and do them, not flub around and avoid coming to grips with necessity. People who do that are stupid, not lazy.

Advise him not to be more stupid than necessary because even that much will be a handicap that may very well break his back before the race is over.

And if the kids slow in getting the point set up an incentive plan. Make it worth his while to develop conditioned reflexes that will enable him to do school work to the best of his ability, whatever that may be. Lay off punishment. Lay on reward.

Having done this much, there's nothing anyone can do, except blow a whistle on every transgression that tends to diminish the impact of your inspired parental spiel.

Chances are, it will be enough—but expect no miracles. If the kid gets through another year without flunking, that's par. Anything better is a triumph.

'Allied' Ships Work For Enemy

By VICTOR RIESEL

There now is detailed evidence in this columnist's hands to prove the shipyards of the very same nations which cost us millions to rehabilitate are the home berths of the ships now carrying Communist cargo to Cuba to debilitate us. This is the first specific information available in the United States.

Here are the names of some of the ships I believe should be blacklisted from all United States ports unless they cease working for the enemy:

Two of the vessels most important to the Soviet's five-to-six-thousand mile supply line to Cuba are the Westfalen and the Atlas. They are West German. Thus, while some of the German Federal Republic's leaders wait over the Wall in Berlin, they permit their own freighters to carry cargo for the Communist leaders who erected the concrete fence through the heart of the besieged city.

On Aug. 28 the Westfalen was in the port of Leningrad taking on vital industrial cargo for the Sovietizing of Cuba.

ON THE SAME DAY, the "big steamer" Atlas had just completed its cargo taking and was waiting the signal to steam as swiftly as possible to Havana. That was in Riga, "capital" of Latvia, one of the nations seized by the Stalinists.

Also on the same day the steamship Airone, sailing under the Italian flag, was at the dock in Novorossisk awaiting cargo assigned to several Cuban ports.

And the Greeks, who have complained to me so bitterly over our cut in cash aid, have chartered the Parnon to the Russians.

The Norse, who know well the insensate brutality of totalitarians, have nonetheless chartered the Tove Lilian to the Soviet Ministry of the Maritime Fleet. The Tove Lilian was in Leningrad Port on Aug. 28.

Destination: Cuba. And on that day in the Black Sea port of Odessa were the San Nicholas and the Tarsesus. The first craft runs the flag of Lebanon, which only recently pledged such fervent friendship to Vice President Johnson. The second freighter is from Liberia, no less—an American-made nation. Without us it would long ago have floundered.

THESE ARE but a few of the 105—not merely 61 as previously reported—NATO or "friendly" flag ships now running cargo to the Communist island in the Caribbean.

Furthermore they are making it possible for Cuba to keep its vital sugar industry going. It is this money making product which enables the Havana regime to maintain some kind of economically life sustaining foreign trade.

I can quote the Soviet Maritime Fleet Ministry itself on this trade.

Said the ministry in a report to its own high command recently: "They (these chartered ships) will return to Soviet shores with cargoes of raw sugar. . . ."

Without these ships the ministry could not meet this year's quota, much less its decision that "the volume of Soviet-Cuban maritime shipments will double this year, compared with last year."

FURTHERMORE, the Soviet ministry is boasting that "In any big USSR port today one will see ships ready to sail for Cuban shores. . . . The flow of cargo along the Soviet-Cuban line has grown so much that a part of the shipments to Cuba from the Soviet Union are carried in these foreign ships.

All these ships, of 7,000 to 13,000 tons, displacement, have been chartered by the Soviet Union to carry industrial equipment, flour, paper, and fertilizer to Cuba."

Our own intelligence sources have learned that the already heavily stretched Russian merchant fleet was inadequate to supply Cuba under the emergency Soviet program. Thus, without the foreign flag ships of our closest international friends, the Moscow timetable would have cracked.

BUT, I'M TOLD by maritime workers leaders, including seafarers and longshoremen on this waterfront whose global "grapevine" has traditionally been accurate, that an even more precious "cargo" is being carried by the foreign flag ships. Some of the vessels have passenger facilities.

In the last few months they have helped to transport "some of the four to five thousand Cuban children and slightly older students to Iron Curtain lands for brainwashing and upbringing as disciplined Communist youth cadres. They will be returned to Cuba in anywhere from 10 months to five years."

Some of our friends would do well to zip up their pockets before they open up their mouths about the global menace.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please forgive this make-do stationery. As you can see, it is a hospital form for physician's orders.

I am a student nurse and this letter is being written in the maternity section of a large hospital. This is my first day in the delivery department and I am assigned to sit with four expectant mothers.

Two of these mothers are happily married women. One woman has three little boys and she is hoping for a girl. When her fine-looking husband brought her in a few hours ago he said jokingly, "It's got to be a girl, you know—but if it's another boy, we won't leave him here."

The second happily married woman is having her first baby. Her adoring husband is so concerned for her that I am secretly envious. How I hope one day I am lucky enough to get a man like that!

The other two expectant mothers are unmarried. They came within hours of each other, from the Florence Crittenton Home.

My heart aches for these two girls. One is 17, the other is 18. I am sorry for them not only because they are facing this ordeal alone, but because when it's over they will not be taking their babies home. They will leave empty-handed and heavy-hearted.

The full impact of this tragedy hit when I heard one girl say to the other, "It wasn't worth all this, was it?"

I am writing this letter in the hope you will print it. It may help some foolish teen-ager whose resistance is gradually being worn down by a smooth, fast-talking boy friend. — DIANE.

Dear Diane: There is nothing left for me to say except thank you for writing. Your letter said it all.

Dangerous Game

Dear Ann: What do you think of a mother who encourages her daughter's boy friend to come over every night of the week? She drives the two of them to the movies, to the bowling alley, swimming, any place they wish to go.

The boy is urged to eat lunch and dinner at the girl's home every day. Mother is forever asking the young man, "Do you really love my daughter?"

Yesterday the boy was invited to accompany the family on a week's outing at a resort.

And now for the final blast—the girl is 13 years old. The boy just had his 15th birthday. I say this is a potentially dangerous situation. What do you say? — M.M.

Dear M.M.: The situation is loaded with dynamite. Someone should rescue both these kids from the clutches of this sick woman.

Where are the boy's parents, anyway? If they permit this sort of unconscionable maneuvering they must share in the responsibility for whatever happens.

Dieting Canine

Dear Ann: I just read the letter signed "Scranton Joe." He was concerned about a half-starved dog in the neighborhood. It wouldn't surprise me if Joe was writing about our pet.

We have a large, long-haired dog. She tries to cool off during the summer by going under the porch. She refuses to come out during the day, even for food. At night she eats only part of what we give her. The other dogs eat the rest.

It's been this way every summer since she was a pup. It used to worry us sick, but the vet told us she'd eat when she felt like it and not to worry. When he weather cools off she perks right up and eats normally.

If "Scranton Joe" can get our dog to eat during the summer we would surely appreciate it. If HE feels bad because he can count her ribs a block away, how do you think we feel? — A DOG LOVER, TOO.

Confidentially

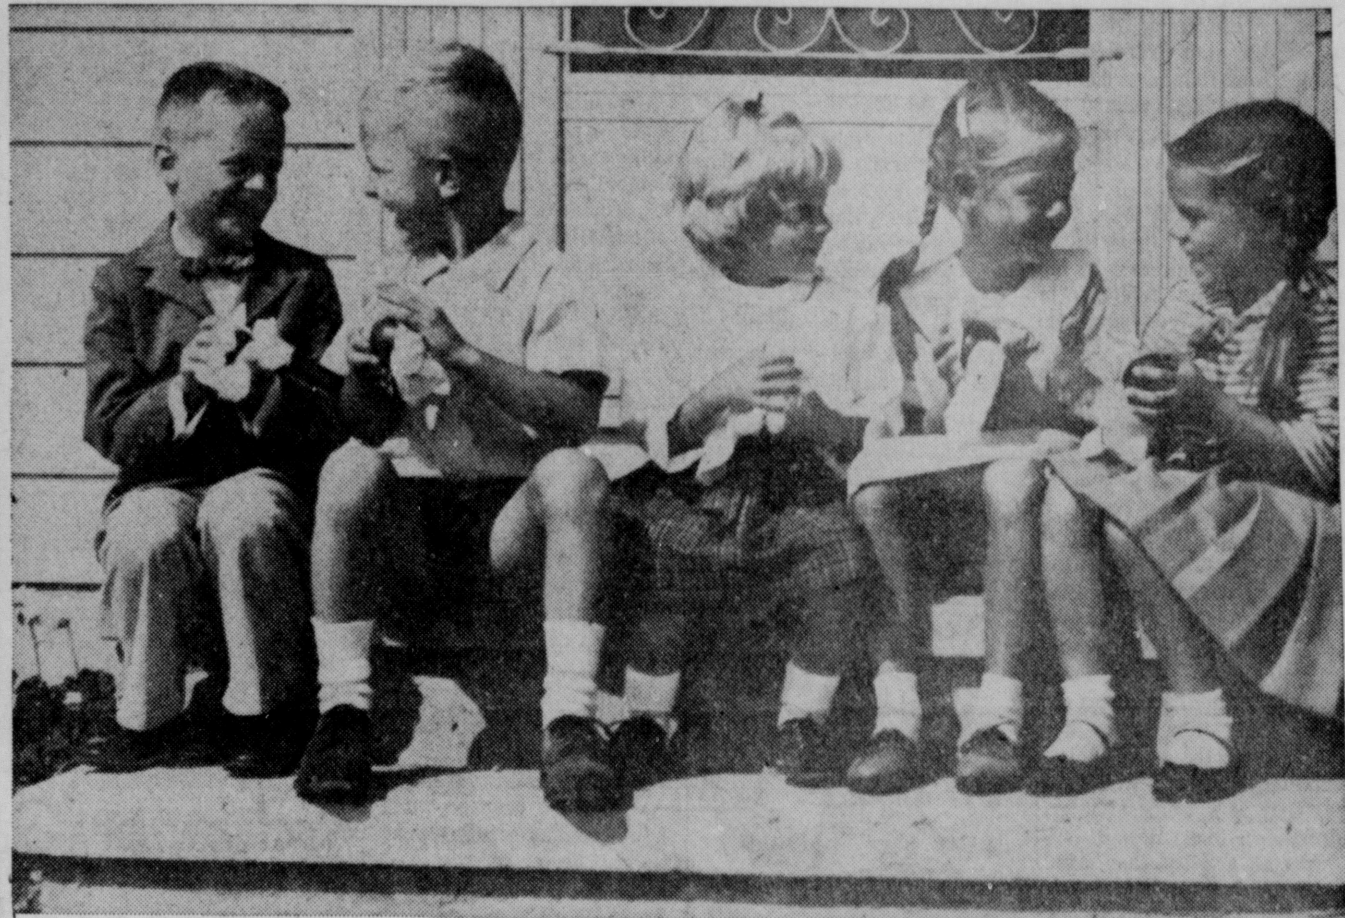

TO SORRY FOR HIM: This bird is Bad News. Stay away from him and don't try to make him over. A 16-year-old girl is not a reform school.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

IT'S A DELICATE ART

EDWARD MARSHALL BOEHM is one artist who can turn porcelain into sculptures of birds that almost seem ready to fly. The Maryland-born artist is a scholar who has studied the life cycles and habits of different birds. He oversees several craftsmen in his Trenton, N.J., studio where other fine work is done of wild and domesticated animals, religious subjects and decorative pieces. Some art objects require 400 to 600 separate molds from dissected sections of original models. Boehm taught himself ancient and difficult process of making fine porcelain.

Molds (above) are made and liquid porcelain poured in (inset). These are downy woodpeckers in a vine. Boehm uses clay to sculpture a bird. The clay image is an important step in process of making fine porcelain.

Schaefer-Gayer Vows Exchanged In Church

Before an altar decorated with white flowers, grape ivy and schefflera, Miss Nancy Jean Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Schaefer of 1227 E. 12th St., became the bride of Keith T. Gayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Gayer of E. Schreyer Pl., Columbus, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the sanctuary of the First United Presbyterian Church. Rev. Bruce Milligan officiated at the double ring ceremony, and Miss Janet Williams, cousin of the bride, played the traditional wedding music.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride was gown in white silk taffeta and Alencon lace. The scalloped scooped neckline was outlined with lace and appliques of lace adorned the controlled skirt with unpressed pleats in the back ending in a chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion billowed from a pill box hat of silk and lace sprinkled with pearls and she carried a white Girl Scout Bible topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. William Walk was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Will Wright of Kentucky, Miss Fay Conser and Miss Donna Weber, both of Salem. They wore identical dresses of white nylon organza over yellow taffeta with scooped necklines, capped sleeves and bell shaped skirts and carried half baskets of yellow pompons.

Robert K. Bee of Bethel served his cousin as best man and Paul D. Gayer of Maryland, brother of the bridegroom, William Walk of Louisiana and Richard Daulbaugh of Akron ushered.

Mrs. Schaefer wore a gown of beige lace with brown accessories and yellow carnation corsage, and Mrs. Gayer, mother of the bridegroom, blue embroidered silk organza with navy accessories and pink carnation corsage.

At the reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church, Miss Judy Williams, cousin of the bride, registered 150 guests who gathered to greet the bridal pair. The bride's table was covered with white linen and graced with a four tier cake decorated in yellow. Floral arrangements flanked the cake and white tapers in silver candelabra lighted the decor. Mrs. Richard Daulbaugh, Mrs. Donald Gleaser and Mrs. Robert Bee served.

The bride is a graduate of Salem High School, attended Ohio State University and is a graduate of Columbus Business University. She is employed by Western Electric Co.

Mercure Team Feted At Dinner Program

A picnic was held yesterday for members of the Mercure Little League and Hot Stove baseball teams by their parents at Clarkson Presbyterian Hall. Members of the team were honored for their undefeated season which was climaxed by a 24-5 win in the championship playoff game Aug. 25.

Coaches Edwin Gorby, Richard Barnhouse and William Lyder awarded trophies to the team members. Mrs. Edwin Gorby, secretary and treasurer of the team, presented a trophy to each coach.

Attending the picnic were Mike Mercure, sponsor of the team, his wife and son. Mr. Mercure was presented a large trophy by Edwin Gorby.

Paul Loudons At Hanoverton Feted

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loudon of Hanoverton was celebrated Saturday evening with a surprise party at their home, arranged by their daughter, Betty Loudon.

Twenty-eight members of the Loudon and Mundy family attended, brothers and sisters of the couple.

The table was decorated with a lace tablecloth decorated with a large white candle decorated with white bells and lilies of the valley with a silver 25 on top, a three-tiered cake decorated and baked by Mrs. Alfred Stoudt of New Garden and flowers given to the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Loudon were united in marriage Sept. 6, 1937, by Father Palm at St. Phillip Neri Catholic Church at Dungannon, of which they are members. The couple have one daughter, Betty Loudon at home. Mr. Loudon owns and operates Paul's Sohio Service Station in Hanoverton.

The evening pastime was playing cards and family pictures were taken by Betty Loudon. The couple received many gifts.

Refreshments were served by Kathryn Mundy, Bernice Stoudt, Dorothy Mundy and Betty Loudon.

HE GREW HAIR

Before Treatment

A Few Months Later

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with a representative — saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method. He did not have male pattern baldness.

HAIR SPECIALISTS

Home Treatment System

Will be in Alliance, Ohio Tomorrow Wednesday Only

The Ebb Hair Specialists' Staff Director, J. C. Kell on his regularly scheduled visit will be at the Lexington Hotel, Alliance, Ohio, Wednesday, Sept. 12. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Ebb method is known to many people all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Ebb representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Ebb organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Ebb method nor any other method is effective, and the Ebb method will not help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

If your scalp is still creating hair and you have dandruff, or excessive hair fall, excessive oiliness, dryness, or itchy scalp, you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Many have reported satisfactory results from the methods used by Ebb. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anytime it costs you nothing to come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Lexington Hotel in Alliance, Ohio on Wednesday, Sept. 12 only, between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for J. C. Kell. He will do the rest.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Mr. Kell will be in Youngstown, Ohio, Thursday, Sept. 13, at the Pick-Ohio Hotel.

WHEN THE ENTERPRISE MAKES KNOTS you can actually see your tax dollars at work—working usefully . . . paying for America's world-wide defense. That kind of defense costs many billions. The nation is much better able to pay for it when the government cuts out needless spending. Yet some people are urging the federal government to build more electric plants and lines. This is unnecessary. Investor-owned companies—like this one—can supply all the additional electric power required for a fast-growing America. Electric power is a field where the government can save your tax dollars—not spend them.

Lackawannans Get Closer Look At Mullins Statue

A copper statue manufactured about 60 years ago by Salem's W. H. Mullins has been lowered from a perch more than 150 feet above Lackawanna, N.Y., and placed on a pedestal in a garden, to stand for perhaps another 60 years.

Back about the turn of the century, the principle products of W. H. Mullins (now Mullins Manufacturing Corporation) were metal statues and intricate ornamental metal-work. These were artistically and skillfully crafted and were sold and used nationally on well-known edifices. Many still stand.

The 12-foot figure of Our Lady of Victory was placed atop St. John's Rectory shortly after the latest portion of the building was completed about 1899 or 1900. Until the nation's first Basilica, the National Shrine of Our Lady of Victory, was erected between 1921 and 1926, the statue marked the highest point in West Seneca and Lackawanna. From 1926 to 1962, the figure was only a few feet below the Basilica's dome.

The late Father Baker, whose charities to boys from Ohio and 36 other states is legendary, had two crowns of lights placed around the head of Mary and the head of Jesus. A ladder was set into the back of the statue to permit changing of light bulbs. These lights were as beacons to sailors on Lake Erie. They were eventually removed to minimize maintenance (it was a lofty climb against Lake Erie's winds).

Very Rev. Msgr. Joseph M. McPherson, general manager of Our Lady of Victory Homes, said that lowering the statue was an important item in the contract with Erie County Wrecking Co. "We wanted to preserve it, of course; generations of Lackawannans felt an attachment to the landmark. We knew it had a fine coating of verdigris, but we had no idea of exactly how it would look up close. We didn't know its exact weight, either."

The wrecker built a cradle, welding together steel and winding rags to cushion the bare metal. Supports were partially sawed away. The boom on the big crane grew to 161 feet (and the crane sat on 15 to 20 feet of rubble). By 2 p.m. Aug. 7, 1500 persons lined curbs around the site.

Despite problems caused by broken saw blades, the heavy package eased to the ground without a hitch at 3:45 p.m. On the base, people read "Manufactured by W. H. Mullins. A. Pelzer, Sculptor."

The face was surprisingly attractive. There was some damage; lightning and hailstorms had bent a hand and inserted some dents. But, all in all, 60 years on high hadn't hurt the copper.

The statue was moved to St. Joseph's Garden, a grassy area where Father Baker formerly had a pavilion for outdoor services. Eventually the pedestal will be faced with granite; lights will be installed; a fountain reactivated.

members of Council will meet with the Board of Public Affairs tonight, and with the Cemetery Board later this month.

Council voted to:

Transfer $225 to the swimming pool fund, and $25 to the Civil Defense fund;

Adopt a resolution authorizing Lisbon to join in the formation of a Columbiana County Civil Defense organization; another resolution in support of a Lisbon homecoming and historical celebration to coincide with the Morgan's Raid Centennial next July 26; and a third resolution commending First Methodist Church for buying and raising an old brick block structure on S. Market St., south of the church;

Designate two parking places on N. Beaver St., at southwest area court, for police car parking; and confirm the mayor's appointment of Hempstead as a member of the park-pool commission, replacing George M. Nace Jr. who resigned at the August meeting.

Mayor Stockman announced that the Jaycees are continuing their volunteer maintenance of Village Hall by painting outside trim and putting windows.

Several councilmen said they are in favor of changing the parking meters to operate Friday nights instead of Saturday nights. Action was deferred to find out the cost of changing instruction plates on the meter heads.

Deaths Funerals

Mrs. Michael King

NEW SPRINGFIELD — Mrs. Rose Ann King (Kiuk), 60, of 148 Grant St., died of a coronary occlusion at 9:45 a.m. Monday in Trenton, Mich., where she had been visiting a nephew.

Born in Pittsburgh, Jan. 29, 1905, the daughter of George and Catherine Schull Brown, she lived in New Springfield 10 years, coming there from Struthers. She was a member of St. Paul, the Apostle Catholic Church of New Middletown. She married Michael King in 1919. He died in 1959.

She is survived by her stepmother, Mrs. Freida Brown of Midland, Pa.; one son, Daniel J. King of New Springfield, with whom she made her home; one sister, Mrs. Carl Schrader Sr. of Philadelphia; two brothers, Harry Brown of East Liverpool, and George Brown of Pittsburgh; three step-sisters, one step-brother and two grandchildren.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Thursday at the church. Burial will be in the New Springfield Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Seely-Bellhart Funeral Home Wednesday evening where Rosary will be recited at 8.

ness, and on Saturday he developed convulsions which persisted. His doctors said this was evidence of brain damage, apparently resulting from a shortage of oxygen. The doctors explained the overdose of barbiturates reduced the supply of oxygen to the brain and probably caused a brain hemorrhage.

Soblen was a physician afflicted with an incurable disease; a naturalized American convicted of biting the hand that gave him shelter; a Communist who admitted support of the left wing in politics throughout World War II. He denied vehemently that he ever engaged in espionage, "or anything remotely connected with it."

But he was convicted by a U.S. District Court in New York July 13, 1961, of turning over secret data to Soviet agents over a span of two decades, including war-time information from the New York headquarters of the Office of Strategic Services. He was sentenced to life in prison, though the penalty might have been death.

American appeals judges and the U.S. Supreme Court considered the proof ironclad. Soblen was denied a new trial and the Supreme Court refused to review his case.

That was the background of Soblen's flight last June 25 to Israel where, as a Jew, he vainly claimed the right to a haven under the Israeli Law of Return. Israel arrested him on suspicion of entering with false documents—the Canadian passport of a dead brother—and expelled him.

Meeting Set On Lisbon Plant Strike

LISBON — Management and labor of the Thomas Works of H. K. Porter Co. will meet next Tuesday in another effort to settle the wage dispute which has closed the plant since July 1.

Several meetings with a federal conciliator have achieved nothing. The last was Aug. 22.

William F. Hiel, manager of manufacturing at the Thomas Works, resigned Monday to accept a manager's position with General Electric's Locke Insulator Plant at Baltimore, Md.

He is the second official to resign since the strike. Sales manager Norman Shipley left several weeks ago to take a managerial post with the Porter Co. in Cincinnati.

Catholic Students To Attend Classes

Confraternity of Christian doctrine classes of St. Paul's Catholic Church for students in grades 9 through 12 will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in St. Paul's School and will continue each Thursday for 32 weeks.

4 Firemen Hurt In Blaze In Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A three-alarm fire wrecked part of a custom kitchen building firm today and sent four firemen to South Side Hospital.

The fire of undetermined cause broke out at 8:25 in the rear of the one-story brick building housing Master-Built Kitchens.

Witnesses said flames gutted the back part of the building in which kitchen equipment and appliances were stored. The front half was damaged by smoke and water. Fire department estimates of damage were about $60,000.

Firemen from 13 companies battled the blaze for more than an hour before bringing it under control.

Ernest Weiss, owner of the building, was inside shortly before the fire was discovered and found nothing out of order. He tried to let firemen in by a side door but was driven back by the heat and flames.

Rush-hour traffic in the area was tied up during the fire.

Paint, varnish and other highly combustible materials fed the flames and caused some explosions.

The firemen succeeded in preventing damage to a newly remodeled Salvation Army building across an alley from the burning structure.

The injured firemen are James Prosser and William Casey, who suffered from smoke inhalation; Gilbert Nespecka, whose eye was injured; and Ted Khursky, who received a cut on his hand. None was in serious condition.

Smith and Hamanns went to the nearby ranch of Barbara Rainwater and telephoned officers.

"I'm glad we didn't look any farther than we did," Smith said. "I couldn't have looked any more."

A tandem tire, lodged against a pine tree, was the biggest piece of the plane intact.

DRAW TRAFFIC FINES

Donald Zelenski, 23, of Monessen, Pa., was fined $10 and costs on an assured clear distance charge when he appeared before Mayor Dean Cranmer Monday.

Zelenski was cited after the car he was driving struck the rear of an auto driven by John Peter Roth, a soldier stationed in Frankfurt, Germany, which was stopped at a traffic light on S. Lincoln Ave. at the intersection of Aetna St. The mishap occurred at 1:27 a.m. Monday.

In other court action George Sliffe, 29, of Uhrichsville was fined $640 and costs on a truck overload charge. According to the mayor, Sliffe was driving a truck-crane outfit.

Truckers Fired on In NFO Livestock Withholding Action

CORNING, Iowa (AP) —There were new reports of violence against truckers today as National Farmers Organization President Oren Lee Staley called upon members to tighten their livestock holding action.

In an address to about 1,200 persons attending an NFO-sponsored dinner Monday in Mason City, Staley said the holding action has been more effective than expected.

"The time has come when we must tighten down our holding action because we are very close to victory," Staley told the group.

He said hog receipts continue to lag far behind normal in the holding action aimed at forcing processors to sign contracts guaranteeing farmers higher prices for their livestock. Staley conceded cattle receipts were somewhat higher Monday but contended nearly half the receipts were stockers and feeders.

Gov. Elmer L. Andersen said he received a report of tires being shot off a livestock truck near Slayton, Minn., early today. Sheriff William H. Neumann furnished a convoy to accompany the truck to the Iowa line with its cargo of cattle destined for the Sioux City stockyards.

Andersen termed the violence likely the work of irresponsible individuals seeking either to help or discredit the NFO.

Four drivers of farm trucks reported they were fired at near Bowling Green, Mo., Monday night as they hauled livestock to the St. Louis market.

Sheriff Lester Plackmeyer said there were marks of shotgun pellets on the fenders and doors of the trucks, and one truck had a flat tire.

Galbreath Quits, Crawford Named to Rogers Council

ROGERS — The second councilman's resignation in a month was submitted Monday night when Mrs. Maine Hall, village clerk, read Everett Galbreath's letter of resignation at the regular council meeting. Council accepted it.

ing to wait until after the U.S. congressional elections in November. The statement noted that East-West talks on the Berlin crisis had paused recently.

"They say that it is difficult for the United States of America to conduct negotiations on a German treaty since elections to the American Congress are coming up in November," the statement said.

The Soviet government said its ships were carrying not only munitions but machinery and agricultural equipment to Cuba to help build up the country. What these ships contain, the government declared, is the affair of the Soviet Union and Cuba.

"Don't put your nose into other people's affairs," it said.

Commenting on reports in the United States that the Soviet Union is building up a base in Cuba, the statement said such a base is not needed since Soviet nuclear weapons can reach any place on earth and aid can be given to any country on earth directly from the territory of the Soviet Union.

"At the request of the Cuban government, and in response to continued threats, the Soviet Union is delivering to Cuba a certain amount of armaments," the statement said.

"Cuban statesmen have asked the Soviet Union also to send military specialists and technicians to teach Cubans how to master modern weapons. Cuba does not possess such experts."

It said it was not Cuban arms which threatened the United States.

"The revolutionary spirit is what you are afraid of, not military means," the statement said.

With the Patients

Miss Esther Odoran of 763 N. Lincoln Ave. is recovering at her home following surgery at Johns-Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Mrs. Frank Hicks, 67, of Columbiana, is in good condition in Salem City Hospital where she was admitted at 11:30 a.m. Monday for treatment of a dislocated shoulder suffered when she fell from a ladder while picking peaches at her home.

Galbreath's brother, Ed, resigned last month, citing ill-health as his reason. Both men are proponents of selling of the village hall, a matter which has caused much controversy and tension within the council. The move has been tabled.

Everett Galbreath gave no specific reason for his decision to resign. William Crawford was appointed by Mayor Robert McCleary to replace Ed Galbreath, with council's approval. Council will select Everett Galbreath's successor at the next meeting.

IN OTHER ACTION, Mrs. Hall read a letter from the Montour Railroad Co. of Youngstown stating that the railroad property on Route 7 is now legally the property of the village of Rogers.

John Dvoracek of Youngstown and Harold W. Wurster of Leetonia spoke briefly about the sanitation cost estimate for the village of Rogers. They will return to the next meeting on Oct. 1.

Fire chief Sidney Cowan of the Rogers Volunteer Fire Department demonstrated the mine safety air pack mask that the council purchased for firemen to use. He explained that the mask holds 30 minutes of air and will enable firemen to enter a smoke-filled building.

Mayor McCreary, reporting traffic court violations for the latter part of July and all of August, stated that 22 traffic violation cases were tried.

Council will hold its next regular meeting at 7 p.m. Oct. 1 in the Rogers Community Hall.

FRACTURED SPITTER

Gene Conley Traded To Knickerbockers

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Conley, one of those rare athletes who has made it in two big league sports, is set to make another switch in his varied pro career.

The New York Knickerbockers acquired the 6-foot-8 center in a National Basketball Association trade with Chicago Monday, sending center Phil Jordan and rookie Cliff Luyk to the Zephyrs.

Currently, Conley is pitching for the Boston Red Sox, with whom he has compiled a 13-13 record this season. He's combined pro baseball and basketball since 1952. The towering right-hander has pitched for the Boston and Milwaukee Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies in addition to the Red Sox.

Robinson drove in three of the four Red Sox runs, starting his heroics with a second-inning homer, then sending Vada Pinson home with a single in the fourth before providing the game-winner in the 11th with a homer off Cardinal starter Ernie Broglio (11-8). The Cards had tied it in the eighth on Gene Oliver's homer off Joe Nuxhall.

Mathews broke a 2-2 tie with a one-on homer in the seventh and Aaron followed with his 39th for the Braves. The two homers made it 185 against the Mets this season, tying the NL record set by St. Louis in 1955.

Major League Stars

PITCHING — Dean Chance, Angels, allowed only one hit—an infield single by Zoilo Versalles with one out in the eighth inning—as third-place Los Angeles blanked second-place Minnesota 5-0.

BATTING — Tommy Davis, Dodgers, hit grand slam homer in third inning and wound up with five runs batted in as Los Angeles retained its half-game National League lead over San Francisco by walloping the Chicago Cubs 8-1.

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Jimmy Scates of Warren, Ohio, knocked out Ernest Hall of Cleveland in 38 seconds of the sixth round of a bout here Monday night.

Scates, a finalist in the Olympics two years ago, weighed in at 149 pounds, one pound more than Hall.

Brown Calls Early Practice Sessions

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns launched their weekly practice sessions a day earlier than usual as they prepared to-day for Sunday's season opener against the New York Giants.

Coach Paul Brown fears the physical condition of his charges might suffer from a prolonged layoff. They finished their exhibition season Friday night with a victory over the Chicago Bears.

Brown brought his squad down to the required National Football League limit of 36 players Monday by asking waivers on Jim Shorter, a defensive halfback, and fullback Merrill Douglas.

Shorter, who underwent an operation for removal of a wart from one foot Monday, was listed as an injured player.

Douglas was obtained in a trade with the Dallas Cowboys.

Mantle Swats 400th Homer As Yanks Dump Detroit 3-1

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

More room at the top for the New York Yankees after No. 400 by Mickey Mantle, a hit when it counted most by slumping Hector Lopez, and a masterful performance by a young pitcher for a rival contender.

Mantle, back in action in the American League battle following a six-game layoff with an injured side, belted the 400th home run of his 12-year career Monday night to pull the Yankees even in their close one with the Detroit Tigers and Lopez drove across the winner with the first hit in his last 23 at bats, a ninth-inning single. End result: a 3-1 New York victory.

An infield single kept Dean Chance from registering a no-hitter for the third-place Los Angeles Angels over Minnesota's runnerup Twins. The 21-year-old right-hander turned the Twins away without a hit until there was one out in the eighth inning. Then Zoilo Versalles, lashed a hard one up the middle which Jim Fregosi raced over to spear, but his throw to first was late and wild, permitting Versalles to reach second.

It went as an unquestioned hit, the only one Minnesota got. End result: a 5-0 Los Angeles victory.

Also in the American League, Baltimore nipped Boston 2-1 on Dick Williams 12th-inning pinch hit and Chicago edged Kansas City 4-3. Cleveland and Washington were not scheduled.

Williams' pinch single pinned a tough loss on Boston's Earl Wilson, who gave the Orioles only five hits before being nailed in the 12th. Dave Nicholson led off the winning rally with a single, Hobie Landrith walked and Mickey McGuire was safe on a fielder's choice, loading the bases and setting the stage for Williams' clincher.

Ray Herbert, veteran right-hander nearing the end of his finest season in the majors, won his 16th in the White Sox' narrow decision over the Athletics. Herbert was touched for 10 hits and had a rocky seventh inning, when the A's got all their runs, but went all the way.

Romano, Edwards Want Position

Rookie, Veteran Seek Tribe's Catching Slot

CLEVELAND (AP) — A good scrap between two baseball players for a permanent position delights any manager. That being the case, Cleveland manager Mel

McGaha, who has had his share of troubles this year, can derive some satisfaction over the battle between All-Star catcher John Romano and Rookie Howard (Doc) Edwards.

Edwards has started the last three games and six of the last 10. He is rated better defensively than Romano and is batting .321, compared with Romano's .251.

Romano has not looked good for a long time. He has 20 home runs and 69 runs batted in, compared with Edwards' three homers and nine RBIs. But Romano has been to bat 316 more times. He has batted in exactly 15 runs since the first All Star game two months ago and his catching has deteriorated.

This is in sharp contrast to his sharp hitting and able fielding in June.

Edwards is a scrapper and in four of his five years in pro ball has hit well over .300. Some believe his all-around attributes may be enough to outweigh his power deficiency at bat.

Jim Perry (10-11) tries to extend the Tribe's winning streak to four tonight in a solo-game series against Washington here. Claude Osteen (8-11) will pitch for the Nats.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: After trying all of the suggestions to keep from crying when cutting onions, I have found one that beat them all.

Take your cutting board and your onion to your stove. Place the board on the front burner. Let the back burner burn with a small flame!

This is especially good for large church dinners or when canning where large amounts of onions are used. I can cut onions by the bushel when using this method without crying.

I believe the flame from the fire burns up the fumes in the onions. Perhaps one of your readers may be able to give us the answer to why it works.

MRS. M.D.H. Anyone know? Write to Heloise, in care of The Salem News. I'm curious.

HELOISE DEAR HELOISE: Here is a quick way to get rid of air bubbles in a cake. When the batter is in the pan and ready for the oven, drop each pan on a table from about six inches high. You will see all of the bubbles break on the surface of the cake batter.

Do this three or four times to each cake pan and when you are finished the product will be smooth and hole-free.

MRS. PAT CRAGG DEAR HELOISE: Last week I spilled tumeric on my Formica drainboard. Nothing will take it up. Can you help me? We all use

I have your answer for you! Pour rubbing alcohol on the tumeric, let sit one minute. Then dry with a paper towel. Let sit another minute. Wipe off and your drainboard will be clean as new!

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: This is for readers who like to plant seeds, flowers and bulbs, but cannot stand their hands in the dirt or the thought of touching a worm!

If the seeds are small, take a screwdriver and chop little tiny holes into the earth, plant your seed in the holes and water well.

If you are planting bulbs or such, have your husband take an old discarded broom handle and "whittle" it to a sharp point.

Wet the ground with your garden hose, plunge the whittled handle into the ground . . . move it around and around in "circle fashion" and you will find that this will be just the right hole in which to plant that little bulb.

GARDENER

DEAR HELOISE: To remove stitch and needle holes from let-out garments . . . use an old clean toothbrush dipped in water. Shake off the excess water and brush the marks up and down or across the seam line. Steam press and the holes should disappear.

Stubborn holes may have to be reworked a time or two.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Stamp givers—How do you feel each time you hand out those little pieces of trickery? Myself I felt I was a miserable failure. It seemed like I was forced to bribe every customer to get him in my store. It caused me to lose all pride in my business. It bothered me so much that I finally threw them out. Today my customers are real happy because I give them values. I can sleep better because I know they came in on their own free will.

Bus Driver Indicted For Manslaughter

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Second-degree manslaughter indictments have been returned against Steve Amicarelli, 42, of Youngstown, driver of a bus involved in an Ohio Turnpike collision that took two lives and injured 29 other persons.

George Martin, Portage County prosecutor, said two secret indictments were returned last week against Amicarelli.

The bus driver pleaded innocent Monday to a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. That charge, too, stemmed from the Aug. 17 crash.

Amicarelli was released on $50 bail after the Municipal Court arraignment. His hearing was set for Oct. 4.

The collision near the Streetsboro interchange on the turnpike involved the bus and a truck loaded with heavy steel rods.

BUICK'S NEW SPORTS COUPE — The superb performance and maneuverability of a sports car are combined with styling elegance and craftsmanship in Buick's new Riviera coupe. The Riviera is powered by a 401-cubic inch engine combined with turbine drive transmission. The car is only 53.2 inches high and has a 15-inch center of gravity that permits the high degree of maneuverability desired in a personalized sports car. It boasts such styling and engineering innovations as a tilting steering wheel. Four bucket seats with center console are featured in the interior.

Narcotics Seized In Charleston, W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)

An investigation of more than a year's duration has resulted in seizure of narcotics valued at $35,000 on the illegal market and the arrest of two Charleston residents.

Charleston detectives twice visited a house trailer here Monday and found 11 bottles of morphine, dilaudid, cocaine and pantopon hidden in an oil stove and in a bedroom. Police said they also found a quantity of barbituates.

Lt. W. W. Fisher said it is believed the drugs were taken in a burglary of the Arcade Drug Store at Newark, Ohio, Sunday night. Newark police said at least 49 drugs, some of them narcotics, were taken in the burglary as well as $133 in cash.

Arrested here on a charge of possession of narcotics was Jack Edward Harper, 41. Charged with aiding and abetting in the possession of narcotics was Mary Rayhill, about 44. Police said both have police records and both lived in the trailer.

Officers in Columbus, Ohio, and in Huntington and Parkersburg, as well as Charleston police, have been working on the case.

HELICOPTER CUTS WORK

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Power Co. used a helicopter Monday to put in place in 40 minutes three high-voltage transmission line towers in Carroll County along a line which eventually will run from a generating station near Steubenville to Canton.

Under old methods, a full day's work would have been required to erect the 3,500-pound towers.
